Dedication

Change. We all at some time must face it, possibly with uncertainty. Companions come and depart and we all must meet a period of adjustment. It may be a difficult one, but every so often, someone comes along to meet this challenge and overcome it.

This year a new face joined our faculty, but she doesn't seem new. She fit right into place and adapted herself to the Woodward family. We waited with anticipation to acquaint ourselves with our new faculty member. She greeted us and became a friend as well as a teacher - she met us halfway. She became a part of us, as she won our respect and our admiration.

Because of these reasons, and many more, we, the Class of 1976, dedicate our yearbook to Miss Nancy Vogel.

Dear Seniors:

As you leave Woodward in this second year of our country's Bicentennial, we look to you and to other members of your generation for moral renewal and moral leadership. In asking you to share this responsibility we are not unaware of the disillusionment and uncertainty that are the legacies of the Vietnam War, Watergate, and the societal ills from which we have been suffering during your lifetime.

We now are at a crossroad on the path leading to the Tricentennial. We can either continue on our present course, whistling in the dark and trusting to luck, or each one of us can make a real effort to assume personal responsibility for the preservation of freedom. Although we ourselves gained our personal freedom easily (through inheritance), we must remember the price that others have paid for it and how easily it can be lost.

"We cannot sustain an ordered, free society in a moral vacumn nor can we legislate virtue. Self-reliance, self-discipline, respect for the law and for the property of others - all permeated by an unselfish concern for the public good - are as necessary today for the preservation of freedom as they were for its birth two hundred years ago."

Freedom is based on responsibility: responsibility to one's self, to one's family and friends, to one's community and country, and to the work one chooses as a personal contribution to society. However, do not think of responsibilities as dull duties; they are wonderful opportunities! In fulfilling them, you experience the joy of accomplishment and the contentment in knowing that you are doing your part on every level of personal involvement.

May you set high goals and achieve them, and may you lead full and happy lives.

Fondly,

Eunice S. Gilford

The 1976 Yearbook has been a challenging experience for the Class of 1976. We feel that this yearbook represents some of the most important years of our early lives, especially our six years of learning and recreational activities at Woodward. We will certainly have fond memories of our years at Woodward, and we will be able to feel satisfied that we have reached our final goals here: our yearbook and our long-awaited graduation day. We would now like to thank everyone who has helped us to reach these goals.

Sunset

The sun spun like a tossed coin.
It whirled on the azure sky,
it clattered into the horizon,
it clicked in the slot,
and neon-lights popped and blinked "Time Expired"
as on a parking meter.

How tall we are,
we've learned so much.
Everything, it seems but how to stay in touch.

"I like the dreams of the future better than the history of the past."

Corinthians 1:13

I Believe

I believe for every drop of rain that falls,
a flower grows.
I believe that somewhere in the darkest night,
a candle glows.
I believe for everyone that goes astray,
someone will come,
to show the way,
I believe, I believe.
I believe above the storm the smallest prayer,
will still be heard.
I believe that someone in the great somewhere, hears every word.
Every time I hear a newborn baby cry,
or touch a leaf,
or see the sky,
Then I know why, I believe.

When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child, but when I became a woman, I put away childish things.

Erika Ann Heinrich

(Rusty)

I was lonely,
  until someone said he cared.
I felt unsure of myself,
  until I was told, " You can do it,"
  and I did.
A question overwhelmed me,
  until a simple answer
  from a friend freed me.
The future frightened me, until my grandfather calmly showed me a first step.
I thought I was odd,
  until a teacher assured me
  I was unique.
Feeling I was ugly haunted me, until my friends helped me to see the beauty that is mine.
O God, life was empty - I lacked something,
  until you gave me your word.

- Herman C. Ahrens, Jr.

It's really hard to say what's impossible . . . ' cause the dreams of yesterday are the hopes of today, and the realities of tomorrow.

I believe in the Sun,
Even when it's not shining.
  I believe in Love,
Even when I'm alone.
  I believe in God,
Even when He's silent.

Uphill

Does the road wind uphill all the way?
Yes, to the very end
Will the days journey take the whole long day?
From morn to night my friend
But is there for the night a resting place?
A roof for when the slow dark hours begin.
May not the darkness hide it from my face?
Shall I meet other wayfarers at night,
those who have gone before.
Then must I knock or call when just in sight?
They will not keep you standing at the door.
Shall I find comfort travel sore and weak?
Of labor you shall find the sun.
Will there be beds for me and all who seek?
Yes, beds for all who come.

Christina Rossetti

The Gift

The writer's home he salvages from little pieces along the roads from distinctions he remembers, from what by chance he sees his grabbed heritage;
and from people fading from his road, from history.
He reaches out far, being a desperate man;
he comprehends by fistfuls with both hands.
But what can bring in enough to save the tame or be home for them who even with roofs and shelterless?
We give them scenes like this:
A tree that blooms in a gale, a sone, the gale can't move, breath song against the pane from outside, breathing,
"Some day, tame men the wild will come the highest wall waving its banner voice, beating its gifted fist; Begin again, you tame ones; listen - the roads are your home again."

William Stafford

Somewhere on lifes road,
I hope that there will be tranquility and peace and that everything that is good comes your way.
Even if life is hard and not so happy, remember that there is someone that really cares about you when you need him.

When clouds over-shadow
you, remember that there will also be a silver lining just beyond.

It's So Hard To Say Goodbye To Yesterday

How do I say goodbye to what we had The good times that made us laugh out outweighed the bad.
I thought we'd get to see forever
But forever has blown away
It's so hard to say goodbye to yesterday.

I don't know where this road is going to lead to All I know is where we've been and what we've been through.
If it gets me to tomorrow
I hope it's worth the pain
It's so hard to say goodbye to yesterday.

And I'll take with me the memories
To be my sunshine after the rain
It's so hard to say goodbye to yesterday.

BUT I MIGHT DIE TONIGHT

I don't want to work away, doing just what they all say,
"Work hard boy and you'll find,
one day you'll have a job like mine."
'Cause I know for sure nobody should be that poor. To say yes or sink low, because you happen to say so. I don't want to walk away, doing just what they all say "Work hard boy and you'll find, one day you'll have a job like mine." Be wise, look ahead, use your eyes" he said,
"be straight, think right."
but I might die tonight!
- Cat Stevens

FACE IN THE CROWD

I've got to stop faking it,
I've got to start facing it,
I'm going to take my final bow
Then I'm going to take my place in the crowd.
I know I'll get used to it,
I've got to stop acting like a clown.
I've gotta start facing up to what I really am.
I've got to realize I'm just an ordinary man.
I think that I'll just settle down
And take my place in the crowd.
I don't want to lie to myself any more.
Am I just a face in the crowd, is that all I'll ever be?
Don't want to be anything that isn't really me.
Mister, can you tell me who I am?
Do you think I stand out Or am I just a face in the crowd?
- Ray Davies

Dear Sherrie,

We'd like to send you this note to tell you of our happiness that you were a part of the Spirit of 1976 and one of our good friends.

You have brought sunshine to many a gloomy day and helped us to take each day as it comes. If there is one person who has showed us how to live each day to the fullest, it has been you.

We will always remember the days of jumping out windows, running through the halls, and all the talking in the study halls.

You have helped some of us laugh through the hard times in science and Spanish classes. We want to express our love and affection for you. Hope we have done so in our little note.

Love from all of

In Memoriam

January 23, 1957 - March 2, 1976

Robin Emily Neyhus

The true person is one whose conduct proceeds from good will and an acute sense of propriety, and whose self-control is equal to all emergencies;
one who does not make the poor person conscious of his poverty the obscure person of his obscurity nor any person of his inferiority or deformity;
one who is himself humbled
if necessity compels him to humble another;
who does not flatter wealth, cringe before power,
or boast of his own possessions or achievements;
who speaks with frankness
but always with sincerity and sympathy;
one whose deed follows his word;
one who thinks of the rights and feelings of others
rather than of his own;
and finally, one who appears well in any company a person with whom honor is sacred and virtue safe.

Joan Theresa Ronukaitus

So as you go to find yourself
Don't look too hard,
You may pass yourself by,
Reaching too high,
Wanting the other side of life.
And as you go to take your place,
Don't go too fast,
Just pretend there's no end,
Make yourself last
Till the other side of life.
One day you'll find
Your restless searching at an end,
You'll think the world has changed
But it's just you my friend.
So as you go to please your heart,
Please take your time,
Someone's waiting there too,
Waiting for you
On the other side of life.

David Gates

Way over yonder is a place I know Where I can find shelter from hunger and cold
And the sweet-tasting good life is found Way over yonder - that's where I'm bound.
I know when I get there, the first thing I'll see
Is the sun shining golden - shining bright down on me.
Then trouble's gonna lose me - worry leave me behind.
And I'll stand up proudly in true
peace of mind.
Way over yonder is a place I have seen
In a garden of wisdom from long ago dreams
Maybe tomorrow I'll find my way
To the land where the honey runs in rivers each day
And the sweet-tasting good life is so easily found Way over yonder - that's where I'm
bound Way over yonder - that's where I'm bound.

Carole King

As horizons are everchanging
and always distant,
I shall not stand still and look into their purple shadows.
Instead I shall seek the high purposes and the new adventures that lie beyond.
I shall reach ever outward to the horizon that is always just beyond my grasp.

To sail on a dream on a crystal clear ocean
To ride on the crest of the wild raging storm
To work in the service of life and the living
In search of the answers to questions unknown
To be part of the movement and part of the growing Part of the beginning to understand.

"With hearts of joy, sing we a song,
Woodward, to thee.
For worthy art thou of acclaim.
For miles around there doth resound
Echoes of thy fame;
Long live thy glorious name; long live
thy glorious name;
Oh Woodward, dear Woodward, hail to thee,
Oh Woodward, beloved.

Oh Woodward dear, forever, thy loyal

Have listened to thy teachings for many a glorious year.
Long may you live to guide us in wisdom's

Senior Candids

Well, I said, "Good morning today."

No I'm not cold, I always wear my jacket inside!

What do you mean by that?

Alright girls pay up!

Don't you dare!!

Class

I can't believe I'm finally on vacation from the Rehabilitation and Biomedical Center. Now for a relaxing trip to the Lunar Holiday Inn. After ten years of school and work, I really need it. I never thought I'd meet so many old friends on the way. Doctor Mary Robbs, the psychiatrist, and Doctor Robin Neyhus, with Nurse Jackie Deware, were part of the examination team on Earth for this trip. I remember when our careers were just dreams.

Oh, it's just great to look at all those stars and the earth. Hey, those two look familiar.
"Don't I know you from somewhere?"
"Hey, Rusty!"
"Nina! Where are you two off to?"
"We're headed for Gamma 3. I've got a heavy case to defend. All this traveling is pretty tough on a lawyer."
"It's pretty tough on a legal secretary too. So how have you been doing, Rusty?"
"Super, Joan. The kids I'm working with are doing really well."
"Well, I've got to get this case together."
"It's been nice seeing you guys."
That is really freaky. And who is this, wafting weightlessly on the aisle?
"Renata, how're ya doin' with your nursery school?"
"Oh, great. I'm living in Omega Village. I've got a bright yellow house that the kids helped me paint."
"That's nice."
"I'm going to see Denny at the other end of the ship. Do you wanna come?"
"Sure."
"Hey Denny? Whatchya doin'?"
"I'm painting a mural on the inside of this ship. It's a million dollar contract."
"Hm. Interesting. Have you seen Tasmin?"
"No, but I heard she's further back redesigning the kitchen of the ship."
"Well, I'm hungry as usual; I guess I'll head for there." "Hey Sherry? Como estas?"
"Rusty! How are you?"
"Hungry! Wanna come to the kitchen with me?"
"O.K. Gail already went there."
"Really? Well let's get floating. I'm starving!"

Prophecy

"Hey, Gail . . . here's Rusty!"
"Gail . . . how's your social work going?"
"Good. Have you seen Taz?"
"No. Maybe she went out for a walk."
"In this weather? We are in for an astro-storm."
"Hi!"
"Taz! How are you doing?" "Pretty well, thank you. I just bumped into an old acquaintance. What are you doing out here?"
"I'm taking a break from my grueling job in special education. Is there any food around here? I think I'm gonna get the hiccoughs."
"Right over there, on the other side of the blueprints is a box full of satellite doughnuts."
"Super. Well, I'm goin' back up front with my doughnuts. See ya round."
"Bye."
"Let's see. I was way up there somewhere. Oops. Hey watch it! You just scattered my doughnuts! Grab that one before it hits the ceiling, would you?"
"I wish you'd watch where you're going."
"Nancy" What are you up to?"
"Rusty!" I didn't even recognize you!"
"Are you a secretary for the President?"
"No. I'm the secretary for the Lunar ambassadors. What about you?"
"Special Ed. Teacher at Earth Rehabilitation and Biomedical Center."
"Well, I wish I could talk longer, but I've got to deliver the lunch slip that the ambassadors made out."
"Nancy, You haven't changed a bit."
Well, this vacation is starting out fine. I can see it's going to be a good one. Lunar Holiday Inn, here I come!

It is nearing the end of our time at Woodward, and we, the senior class would like to thank a special member of our faculty, who will be leaving before this year ends and we graduate. She came to Woodward with us 6 years ago and has been present whenever we needed her. There have been good times as well as bad over the past 6 years, but the good times far outweigh the bad. Not only has she helped us put together this yearbook and earn the money that was so badly needed, but she has always pushed us to use the best of our abilities to achieve our goals. We cannot thank Mrs. Donna Whiting enough for her dedication, her love, and her understanding. If there is any one person who has influenced our lives most, it has been Mrs. Whiting. Our class would like to wish her the best of good fortune and happiness in the future.

Now the years are rolling by me
They are rocking evenly.
I am older than I once was and younger than I'll be.
But that's not unusual.
No, it isn't strange.
After changes upon changes
We are more or less the same
After changes we are more or less the same.
